Commuters Win Long Fight with Greyhound

Commuters Win Long Fight For Commute Rates in PH

Commuters to San Francisco and Oakland from the Pleasant Hill area who travel by way of the Martinez bus route soon will pay the same fares as others from the area who ride the Concord route bus of Western Greyhound Lines.

The California Public Utilities Commission ordered The Greyhound Corporation (Western Greyhound Lines Division) to establish and keep in effect commute fares between points on the Martinez bus route at the same level as commute fares on the Concord route.

THEY MUST be established within 10 days after the effective date of the order on July 29.

The Commission found that failure to provide commute fares from West Monument, Oak Park and Geary Boulevard along the Martinez bus route over Pleasant Hill Road to the Bay Area cities, "results in unjust, unreasonable and discriminatory fares being charged passengers who use the bus service on a volume basis."

Yesterday's order was a result of a complaint filed by the Contra Costa County Commuters' Association, followed by public hearings. The Commission denied a Greyhound motion to dismiss the original complaint, following the first hearings.

After filing of an amended complaint additional hearings were held and the matter was taken under submission last November.

COMMUTERS TO San Francisco or Oakland from the Pleasant Hill area formerly paid the one-way fare of 15 cents from the points on the Martinez route to Lafayette and then paid the commute rate from Lafayette to their destination.

Commuters pay a $17.20 monthly commute rate from the Monument stop on the Concord route whereas the monthly commute from points on the Martinez route in Pleasant Hill totaled $20.

GREYHOUND OBJECTED to establishment of the commute rate on the Martinez route because, it claimed, the fares were too low to pay expenses of the operation. It asked cancellation of all commute fares from Contra Costa County points to the Bay Area cities.

Fares other than commute fares, however, were affected by another Commission order today covering six bus companies.

The order increased the minimum fare to 20 cents, instead of 15 cents, which it said would apply equally on the Martinez route from Lafayette or Acalanes Junction to points in Pleasant Hill.

Governor Signs Doyle Measures On State Texts

Textbook legislation modifying state text adoption policies and changing the adoption periods was signed into law last week by Governor Goodwin Knight.

One of the measures also makes the failure to use a prescribed text the responsibility of school district administrators and principals. Previously, school teachers could be found guilty of a misdemeanor for using other than the single state-prescribed text.

THE BILLS, AB 4085 and AB 4088, were authored by Donald Doyle, chairman of the Assembly Education Committee.

The passage into law of the textbook bills was at least a partial vindication of the two-year fight waged by the Lafayette Republican and his three-member subcommittee which reported on state textbooks in April, 1956.

The subcommitte polled school teachers and administrators and concluded that the state printing of textbooks was opposed by nearly an 8-1 majority.

SMALLER MAJORITIES were found to oppose state adoption of texts, and state methods of renewal and warehousing.

Doyle received heavy criticism from San Francisco daily newspapers in the autumn of 1956 for retaining the services of Tom Mechling, also on the payroll of textbook publishers desiring a multiple adoption system.

While the bills signed into law by the govenor do not make multiple adoption a necessity, they do make the adoption of more than one text possible if the board of education so desires.

DOYLE HAS PREVIOULY referred to both bills as "sound improvements," stating that they are the best that could be passed without a constitution amendment.

The adoption period of texts is shortened from eight to four years with two renewals of adoption, a minimum period of twelve years, possible.

This change is considered important by supporters of the measure, who believe that out-of-date texts will be less likely with the shorter adoption period.

WAREHOUSING OF TEXTS in certain areas is also provided for under terms of the new legislation.

According to Doyle, this will eliminate an up-to-90 day delay for some districts in securing texts.

The Lafayette assemblyman, who will soon retire from his assembly education chairmanship according to a recent California Teachers Association newsletter, was unavailable for comment this week.

BUT HE SAID during the legislative session that he considered the bills a "basic step in the right direction, although I would have liked to see them a little more tied down."

The legislation had the support of the CTA, the International Typographical Union and the State Department of Education.

Who Will Seek GOP Assembly Position

By LOU CANNON

Assemblyman Donald Doyle has yet to publicly announce his retirement from the present office, but judging by 10th District candidate talk, it seems almost certain that he won't be back.

The Lafayette Republican conceded to The Sun over a month ago that it is a "possibility" that he will be a candidate for his party's state chairmanship in 1953.

WHILE THIS WOULDN'T necessarily prevent Doyle, who presently is serving as GOP state vice chairman, from running for office again, most observers in the district believe that he is serving his last term in the assembly.

Mentioned quite frequently as a probable Republican candidate is Attorney John Nejedly of Walnut Creek, an unsuccessful aspirant for the nomination in 1952.

Nejedly is believed to be definitely interested in the post when Doyle declares himself out of the picture.

THE WALNUT CREEK lawyer finished second in a field of seven behind Doyle six years ago in a GOP field that also included O. J. Wolhgemuth, present East Contra Costa trustee, and King Parker Jr.

His deficit of nearly 100 votes in the large field is considered by some as a very respectable showing, especially since Doyle had the support of the volunteer and vote-producing Republican Assembly.

Another candidate frequently mentioned for the GOP assembly nomination is Concord Mayor George Krueger, who has also been suggested as a possible candidate for Ray Taylor's supervisorial post.

THE CONCORD MAYOR, like Doyle, was unavailable for comment this week.

Jack Pedder of Lafayette is also considered a candidate in some quarters.

Pedder was the only Republican willing to brave the bi-partisan appeal of Democratic State Senator George Miller Jr. in the 1956 election. He surprised some by edging out Miller in the Republican primaries, but lost by over 2-1 in the November general lection.

And what of the Democrats?

THE POTENTIAL candidate list of those desiring to return the 10th district to the Democratic column may be even larger than the roster on the Republican side.

As one Democratic observer put it this week, the Democrats have no idea of how well they can really do in the district.

Doyle has clobbered the opposition since his first time around, and his appeal—like Miller's—has been largely bi-partisan.

DEMOCRATIC SUCCESS in California against more partisan appearing, less popular Republicans has been considerable.

Accordingly, with Doyle out of the picture, many Democrats might want a chance at the job.

Supervisors Enter Tax Collection OK With Transit Body

The Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors entered an agreement with the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District to collect taxes for the transit agency.

The supervisors will accept one-half of one per cent of collection as payment for the service.

The supervisors noted they were acting "reluctantly" and only on the assurance of the district attorney that their action would not prejudice the efforts of the Contra Costa Transit Council to dissolve the district by court action.

In other action the board stated it will contract with its existing and future cities to provide a variety of service at cost to encourage incorporation.

The supervisors adopted a recommendation of a special committee appointed by the board which was headed by Jim Wells of Pleasant Hill.

The board accepted the recommendation as a county policy. Reasons for the acceptance were stated as the policy would reduce to reasonable levels the cost of city services in already built up areas.

The policy provides that services will be offered at cost as long as cities maintain their codes and ordinances in conformity with those in effect in the unincorporated areas.

Crash Kills 2 Workers In Lafayette

Two men were killed and one other injured as the car of a Lafayette man crashed through a construction zone on Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, 1000 feet east of Upper Happy Valley Road Monday.

Dead are Edward H. Cowell, 22, of Napa and Gene Bart Cox, 33, of Antioch. Injured was John Davis McGraw of Napa.

Apollo A. Wayne, 74, 929 Hough Avenue, Lafayette was eastbound and reached the construction area where the road was blocked off into one lane traffic, states the California Highway Patrol report.

Wayne's car apparently hit a barricade dropping the left wheels of the car into a two foot ditch. The car hit the first workman, went another 100 feet striking the second man, according to the report.

The car then went to the right, crossed the road and hit an embankment where it entered the roadway again.

At this point the car struck a car driven by Lucille J. Blalock, 3762 Sundale Road, Lafayette, and hit another car driven by Mabel Gunderson, 3310 Glenside, Lafayette. The car was then thrown into another auto driven by Clarence Compton, 15 La Madron, Orinda, said Officer William Hamilton.

The case was turned over to the District Attorney's office but no action will be taken by his department, said the CHP.

Wayne was treated at Kaiser Hospital for minor injuries. McGraw was treated for internal injuries and broken bones, according to the hospital.

Cowell is survived by his wife, who is expecting her second child in the near future.

CCCSD Tax Rate Set for 8-Cent Cut

Tax rate of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District will be cut by 8 cents even though the directors have prepared the highest budget ever.

The 1957-58 budget will be $29,928.18 cents more than the 1956-57 budget, according to a budget released by the CCCSD.

The cut is due, in part, to an expected increased assessed valuation of the district of $9 million and $1 million worth of bonds of the $8.9 million voted into effect last year by the electorate have been sold, state the directors.

The current tax rate is 72½ cents per hundred of assessed valuation. The proposed tax which was sent to the board of supervisors for their approval is set at 64½ cents.

The tax rate of operation and maintenance of the district in the current budget is 60 cents.

Sun Offer for Free Want Ads Ends Soon, Act Now!

The Sun's free want ads to teen agers of the area will expire Monday, July 22, according to Sun Editor and Publisher Herman Silverman.

THE RULES are as follows:

The teen ager must appear in person at one of the Sun's offices: 1000 Oak Hill Road, Lafayette; 1320 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, or 2125 Salvio Street, Concord.

Ads must be submitted in writing prior to 3 p.m. Monday for publication in the Wednesday edition of the Shopping News and Friday edition of the Sun.

Included in the ad should be the name, age, and type of position the teen ager seeks.

Of course, The Sun cannot take responsibility for claims made in the advertisements. This offer is merely another public service feature of The Sun.

Meeting Today To Review Vital Highway Needs

Vital highway needs in Contra Costa County will be studied at a meeting of county officials, businessmen and members of the State Chamber of Commerce Central Coast Highway Committee, today.

The meeting will be held at 2 p.m. in Court House in Martinez.

It is one of a series being held throughout the state under Chamber sponsorship to determine overall highway construction needs.

Recommendations on highway improvements formulated by the Contra Costa County Highway Advisory Committee will be submitted to the State Highway Commission and considered for the 1957-58 Highway Budget.

Some 800 business, farm and civic leaders from all California counties participate, along with local chamber of commerce committees, county supervisors, and officials of the State Division of Highways in the local meetings.

PUC Grants Rate Increase To Bus Firms

The California Public Utilities Commission authorized four bus companies to increase intercity fares 5½ per cent in addition to the 5 per cent interim increase authorized on August 3, 1956, yesterday.

Commute, school and mileage book fares are not affected.

THE BUS companies are Western Greyhound Lines, of The Greyhound Corporation; Transcontinental Bus System, Inc.; Continental Pacific Lines; and Overland Greyhound Lines Division of the Greyhound Corporation.

Present fares of American Buslines, Inc., and Gibson Lines, were made permanent. They were granted an additional fare increase in a second interim decision last December 19. This keeps the fares of the two companies slightly higher than those of the other four companies.

The minimum fare for all companies was established as 20 cents. Other fares authorized are:

American and Gibson Miles	Per Mile	Other Four Bus Lines Miles	Per Mile
0-25	$0.030	0-25	$0.028
25-50	0.028	25-56	0.0265
50-100	0.026	50-100	0.025
100-150	0.024	100-150	0.023
150-200	0.022	150-200	0.021
200-250	0.021	200-250	0.020
250-300	0.020	250-300	0.019
300-350	0.019	300-350	0.018
350-400	0.018	350-400	0.017
400-	0.017	400-	0.016

The order becomes effective July 29.

The decision was based on operations of Western Greyhound Lines, the most efficient of the companies, and the decision said revenues of that firm would be increased about $600.00 annually on California intrastate traffic, with a rate of return estimated at 7.1 per cent.

OTHER BUS lines affected by the order would earn less, but their rate of return was not calculated.

The Commission declined to accept the argument of counsel for the other bus operators that it should preserve competition by being liberal in considering rates because they would earn less than Greyhound.

The Commission order said: "We have concluded that fares . . . should be established at a level which will provide for preservation of adequate service and will give full recognition to evidence pertaining to economics, efficiencies and improvements which exist in operations of The Greyhound Corporation."

School Elections Changed to Tues.

School board elections will now be held on the third Tuesday of May rather than third Friday because of a bill signed into law Tuesday by Governor Goodwin J. Knight.

Transit District May Veto Key System for Public Use

Directors of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District were expected by observers to vote for condemnation of the Key System at their regular meeting last night.

Whether the action had been taken by the district was not known as The Sun went to press. Directors of the district have pointed out to The Sun that negotiations with Key had been bogged down and no progress had been made by the district.

ALTHOUGH THE district was quoted as stating it would oppose removal of the Key System tracks on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, Claire Macleod, chairman and Robert Nesbit, attorney for the district claimed that the directors had no intention of fighting the proposal to remove the rails from the bridge.

Meanwhile the State Attorney General's office was expected to rule on whether the Contra Costa Transit Council, a taxpayer's group of Contra Costa citizens who oppose the inclusion of Contra Costa in the two county district, may challenge the legal status of the district in the courts.

The coucil contends that Richmond, San Pablo and unincorporated areas of the county were improperly included in the district at the time of the election last November.

THE DISTRICT has announced that it will ask for a $5 million to $7 million bond proposal on next June's primary ballot to buy Key System "lock, stock and barrel."

Nisbet and Robert K. Barber, vice chairman of the district, informed a Contra Costa group recently that the price asked by Key was "way out of line and exorbitant."

Some years ago Key offered to sell itself for $1 million. Just what price is being asked by the system at present was not included in the statements of MacLeod, Barber or Nisbet.

High on the list of plans by the district, since it received a $25,000 loan from the Oakland Bank of Commerce, which will be repaid when the district is put on the tax rolls, is a commute system to Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill and Concord, said Barber.

"WE'LL AT LEAST be two years ahead of the Five-County Rapid Transit System by the time that development gets its feet off the ground," claimed Barber.

Observers of the Transit District claim that Contra Costa taxpayers will be paying the bill for street repairs in downtown Oakland should a major bond issue be passed by the district.

John A. Morin, city engineer of Oakland, informed the Oakland City Council, that under present agreement, Key must pay for street repairs and rehabilitation.

"If the transit district buys out Key it will be the heir apparent to these debts," he said.

The public Utilities Commission in a study completed recently pointed out that streets which are now used by Key system trains are in poor condition. "If the trains are retained, street reconstruction will cost $4,511,600," states the report.

"IF THE TRAIN service is abandoned, streets rails can be removed and can be repaved for $654,544," claims the report.

A meeting was planned by MacLoed and the directors with W. Byron Rumford, author of one of the bridge reconstruction bill and Senator Arthur Breed, who also has a bridge reconstruction bill on the governor's desk.

The bills call for the removal of rails, paving of the lower deck track area and revamping the structure to increase its vehicular capacity by 35 per cent.

The directors have set up a time table to get the bond proposal before the voters by June, but should the Key System fight the condemnation proceeding, it may well not appear on the ballot before November, they said.

THE DISTRICT will, however, continue its negotiations to enter into a five year lease agreement with Key with the understanding that the district would be at the end of the five year period.

The PUC has given conditional approval to Key System to abandon train service and use buses on its trans-bay lines.

The Key System obtained the approval after showing it was losing $480,000 a year on train operations but could save $770,000 annually by bus conversion.

PUC engineers stated that the buses would give faster and more frequent service than is now provided by trains.

THE KEY System also pointed out that the operations of trains includes and outlay of more than $25 million to continue the present service.

The figure includes the replacement of worn ties, rails, alignment of curves and grades, and the replacement of an "elaborate" switching system.

One Traffic Death Mars CC Record

One traffic fatality marred Contra Costa's near perfect record over the Fourth of July holiday weekend, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Killed was Edwin M. Tilden, 52, 4020 Tilden Lane, Lafayette, Saturday night when his sports car overturned at St. Mary's Road and Florence Drive in Lafayette.

Tilden, who was pinned under the car, was pronounced dead at the scene of the accident.

Also injured was Melvin J. Carbone, 29, 3395 Orchard Lane, Lafayette, Tilden's son-in-law.

Carbone suffered a broken collarbone in the accident and was taken to Kaiser Hospital in Walnut Creek.

Bobby Justice, highway patrolmen, reported that Tilden's car apparently went out of control on the winding road and overturned.

The body was taken to the Little Chapel of the Valley, on Thomson Road, Lafayette.

Tilden was the son of Edwin Tilden Sr., millionaire Richmond lumber magnate. Tilden had recently retired his position as a lumber company executive.

McFarland Slated To Speak Tuesday At Orinda Chamber

Guest speaker at the Orinda Chamber of Commerce Tuesday will be John McFarland, general manager of the East Bay Municipal Utility District, according to Clarence Betz, secretary of the chamber.

C. P. "Bud" Tanner, also of EBMUD, will be program chairman. McFarland's topic of discussion will be the proposed Briones Valley Reservoir of EBMUD.

Other matters on the agenda for the noon meeting at the Casa Orinda are a year-round clean up campaign program for the business section of the community.

Betz noted that there had been a great deal of progress along these lines and it was one of the main goals of the Orinda Chamber.

There There are at present 85 members of the chamber including local businessmen and utility companies, Betz commented.

"There are associate memberships to the Chamber now available to businesmen in other communities as long as these businessmen are not in direct competition with Orinda merchants, said Betz.

"It is our intention to work out some way of financing a way of keeping the Crossroad Section clean. Even if we only have one clean up day a month it will be worth it," said Betz.

Do it yourself! Do everything in your power to prevent traffic accidents.

Boy, 16, Safe After Accident On Hiking Trip

Arne Groenings, 16, was safe today following an accident in the rugged Glacier Divide area of the Sierra National Forest.

The boy suffered minor abrasions and contusions while hiking in the forest above Florence Lake.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sig Groenings at first believed that the injured boy was Phil Berry, 16, another hiker and that he was more seriously injured.

The two boys had been hikiing together for 10 days.

But the boy was brought to his home at 23 Via Hermosa, Orinda, on Thursday by David Brewer, the Sierra Club secretary who discovered the mixup.

Masterson Bill Fights For Park Use of San Pablo

Assembly Bill 34 (Masterson) passed by the Legislature and now on the Governor's desk provides a method for opening of public owned reservoirs for recreational purposes under conditions fixed by the State Department of Public Health.

The bill requires the public water agency upon request of the Board of Supervisors to obtain a report from the State Department of Public Health as to whether recreational uses would in any way endanger the water supply for domestic use.

IF THE STATE Department of Public Health finds that recreational uses can be made without danger then the public water agency may open the area for such purposes under the conditions specified by the Department of Public Health.

If the public water agency refuses to open the area after the State Department of Public Health has reported favorably then the question must be submitted to the voters of the water district at the next general election and the agency must permit such use if the majority of the voters approve.

The bill also authorizes the water agency to collect fees for construction, operation and use of all or part of the area. It requires the State Department of Public Health to make recurring inspections to insure continued purity of eth water.

THE WATER agency is authorized to adopt rules and regulations to govern the use of the area and the bill makes violation of such rules a misdemeanor.

The bill also authorizes the State Department of Fish and Game to stock any reservoir so opened with fish.

In addition to Assembly Bill 34 there are two Senate bills relating to the same subject before the Governor.

SB 119 (Teale) relates to reservoirs other than terminal reservoirs and makes their opening for fishing and boating mandatory. As this gill does not apply to terminal reservoirs it would be of little aid to metropolitan areas such as Los Angeles and the East Bay.

SB 581 (Breed) permits any water agency that so desires to open its reservoirs to public fishing under terms prescribed by the Department of Public Health. The water agencies can already do this so this bill is of no help to anybody.

BECAUSE OF the conflicts in the provisions of the three bills the Legislative counsel has ruled that if all three were signed only the bill signed last would be given effect under the provisions of Section 9605 of the Government Code.

Those interested in providing greater recreational opportunities in crowded metropolitan areas are urged to write the Governor requesting that he sign AB34 and that he pocket veto the other two bills, states S. C. Masterson.

Reservoir Land for Park Use, Urges Citizens Group

The East Bay Municipal Utilities District Citizens Committee is seeking preservation of the San Pablo Reservoir area for recreational and park use, according to J. Kohl, chairman.

In letters sent out to taxpayers of the EBMUD area, the committee asks that residents send a special note to L. J. Breuner, president of the EBMUD board of directors stating:

"I BELIEVE that the San Pablo Reservoir area should not be sold, but that it should be preserved for recreational and park use."

The Citizens Committee comprises of EBMUD owners who believe that the San Pablo Reservoir area should be developed in accordance with the recommendations of the Alameda and Contra Costa County Master Plans.

"EBMUD is now offering 6500 acres of San Pablo Reservoir land for sale for residential development from which it should realize approximately $1,495,000. This is not a large figure as seen against EBMUD's property evaluation figure for June, 1956 of $133,902,000. Nor is it a large figure when we divide this $1,495,000 among the 1 million users resulting in $1.50 per water user.

"But the question is: can we afford the permanent loss of this great area from our regional park and recreational lands? Can we afford the green belt loss? Can our East Bay streets sustain another unplanned and untimed flash-flooding of through traffic? How necessary is this residential project just now? Contra Costa County plans reserve this area as open and undeveloped land at least until 1975," states the committee.

The $1,495 million figure is computed by the group on the $230 per acre price received for the sale of Wildcat Canyon by EBMUD.

"IT'S PRETTY HARD to visualize 6500 acres (this is over 10 square miles), since most of us are lucky if we have a backyard 50 feet deep. The San Pablo Reservoir area almost touches Orinda (south) and Richmond (north).

"As a matter of fact, this 6500 acres is part of your backyard. Why not drive along San Pablo Dam Road and see it for yourself? If you drive through Tilden Park, try to picnic or swim in Anza, then continues through the park over Observation Point and east to the Dam Road; if you now drive north on the Dam Road, the land we are talking about surrounds the reservoir," the bulletin issued by the committee states.

"EBMUD wants to sell now. But action to open these lands for recreational purposes or to transfer them to the state or county park system takes time—in some cases, years. It is important that these lands already in public ownership be retained, and used as called for in the Alameda and Contra Costa County Master Plans, urges the committee.

"Once lost is forever lost. Remember Wildcat Canyon? EBMUD sold the 2373 acres for development. It is now Tilden Park Estates. The city of Richmond voted overwhelmingly to acquire this acreage for green park land, but while the campaign was still on—the property was sold," claims the group.

All the cities and towns of the East Bay orbit naturally around the San Pablo Reservoir area. What more ideal location could be found for a great park land and recreational center?

"ON THE OTHER hand, consider how another mushroom housing development would build up traffic problems, add to the smog, overload our schools and crowd our existing parks. With this type of unplanned hasty progress we will soon become a hatful of subdivisions in search of a city, rather than a well-planned neighborhood of communities extending along the East Bay hills," argues the group in favor of the area for recreation and park use rather than subdivision.

Persons interested in helping the program are urged to contact Mrs. Helen M. Bile, secretary-treasurer, 15 La Encinal, Orinda, CL 4-5532, said Kohl.

Memberships in the non-profit organization are being sold for $1 by check which is payable to Colonel J. B. Cuno, treasurer. Group memerships regardless of the size of the group are $5.

The EBMUD Board of Directors comprises Louis J. Breuner, president; A. J. Carrington, vice-president; William D. McNevin, G. Howard Robinson and H. W. Saunders, directors.

70 Attend Curry Creek Park Day Camp for Boys

More than 70 boys are attending day camp today as the Mt. Diablo YMCA sponsors its second YMCA sponsors its second two-two-week session at Curry Creek Park.

The programs began July 8, and will end July 19. James Kirwan acts as camp director. Herb Gerke is senior counselor and Earl Allen is craft supervisor.

The boys attending are from seven to nine years old and come primarily from the Mt. Diablo School District. They are broken up into tribes of nine or 10 each with an Indian tribal name and a counselor.

Curry Park is located at the base of Mt. Diablo on the road to Livermore, two miles south of Clayton Road. The camp concentrates on swimming improvement through instruction, organized games, crafts and free recreation.

The bus picks up the children at the school they attend and the camp day begins at 10 a.m. with swimming instruction.

Swimming is followed by organized recreation and hikes. Lunches are brought by the children and milk is provided. Often there is a surprise treat of fresh fruit or ice cream.

A rest period follows the lunch hour with quiet games and reading. Crafts include key chains and Indian Concho belts. Materials used are tin, scrap leather, plaster of paris, aluminum foil and lanyard.

The day is climaxed by a free swim or hiking. The youngsters arrive at their respective schools between 4 and 5 p.m.

Injunction Hearing Slated for Today

Hearing on the Contra Costa County Housing Authority application for injunction to halt a walkout by Local 159 of the Plumbers Union will be heard today at 1 a.m.

The suit for injunction was brought by A. F. Bray Jr., attorney for the authority when the plumbers who were under contract to the authority failed to show up for work.

The action was taken by the plumbers after Walter J. Tackett of Pittsburg, a plumber was discharged by the commissioners of the district in a special session.

Tackett, an employee of the authority for eight years and a steward of the union, was dismissed because a civil judgment won by a tenant in which she charged that Tackett "took indecent liberties" when he was sent to her apartment to repair some pipes last September 13.

Mt. Diablo Y Will Soon Be Independent

Looking ahead to their first year as an independent group is the Mt. Diablo chapter of the Young Men's Christian Association.

As major supporters of their YMCA branch, the Y's Men's Club has been working steadily toward that goal. The area YMCA will be independent of the Berkeley chapter early in 1958.

The Y's Men's Club is an international service club whose primary duty is service to the YMCA.

This year the group has purchased an electric mimeograph machine. They are presently remodeling the YMCA headquarters on Sunnyvale Avenue in Walnut Creek. A five-ton truck will be the next item of purchase.

The international convention of the Y's Men will host George Dibble, delegate from the Mt. Diablo Y's Men's Club. A "boy of the month" will be chosen soon for his willingness, cooperation, and contribution to the YMCA.

Officers of the Y's Men's Club are President Jake Jonker of Walnut Creek, Vice-President George Dibble of Laafyette, Secretary Steve Evans and Treasurer Hal Queen.

Jonker is also district governor of the five Bay Area Y's Men's Clubs.

Harold Queen is in charge of the local Bishop's Fund. Rare stamps are collected and sent to the international headquarters. The proceeds are used to send overseas delegates to the annual convention.

Serving as directors of the Mt. Diablo Y's Men's Club are Lee Perrin, director of YMCA baseball and basketball; Wilbur Jacoby, Gerald Brown, and John Price, executive secretary of the East Contra Costa YMCA.

Y's Men's Clubs are open to any YMCA member over 20.

One Fire After Another Annoys Smoke Eaters

Eleven grass and trash fires out of control in two days is too much, according to Central District Fire Marshal William Shisler.

Shisler said that the record number of fire calls came last week, and were due to incinerators unsupervised or left to juveniles.

Usually the incinerators were not legally covered, but in one case a very strong wind caused a grass fire despite the fact that the incinerator was covered.

Two homes were threatened by the man-made fires.

All grass should be cleared away in a 25-foot radius from the incinerator, Shisler added.

These offenses are subject to $500 fine and/or six months in jail plus a civil suit.

Kerstetter Is Fourth In Nation

Jack Kerstetter, vice president of the Walnut Creek Junior Chamber of Commerce, placed fourth in the nation among 48 state winners of the annual Speak-Up Contest.

Kersteter won the California competition held at Catalina recently, and was qualified for the national speech-making in Milwaukee, Wis.

His theme was "Faith in God Gives Meaning and Purpose to Human Life," the first tenant of the JayCee Creed.

His example was Russ Beeson of Alamo, who is totally paralyzed from an attack of Polio four years ago.

Beeson, despite his handicap, has created his own agency for nurses seeking employment. He has been equipped with a special phone which does not require the use of his hands.

The national winner of the annual contest is from Buffalo, New York. A Shreveport, La., man placed second, and a Colorado man was third.

Campbell Soup Moving in Here Still Question

Rumors circulating in Orinda claiming the Campbell Soup Company is planning to build on the Pine Grove property were neither confirmed nor denied by its Bay Area Sales Office in San Mateo.

The Sun learned that the division chief of Campbell Soup, J. E. Cowett, whose offices are in Pasadena, was in the Portland area and unavailable for comment.

J. J. Newlone, area manager, stated that Campbell had a large plant in Sacramento and its district offices in Pasadena.

He had heard nothing of the intended sale of the property by Pacific Intermountain Express to Campbell, noting there had been some talk of the poor weather conditions in the oSuthern California area.

"Most of our major policy decisions, such as moving into a new location such as you mention, come from ou general offices in New Jersey," Newlone told the Sun Wednesday.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

"Happy birthday, dear—"

Birthday parties have come a long way since the time of the "popper," the paper hat and the simple dish of ice cream and frosted cake, homemade yet!

NOWADAYS, the CARTE DU JOUR is more likely to consist of peanut butter and jelly sandwiches and/or hot dogs WITH potato chips, celery sticks, carrot curls and olives, a melting jello fruit salad, if it's for lunch, all of which is washed down w/three or four paper cups of pop, Pepsi, or milk tinted pink! AND they still have room for ice cream, cake and candy.

The high-layered heavily-frosted cake that Mother used to bake is a thing of the past. Package Mix is much preferred, as is a cake falsely referred to as the Sheet Cake. On order at the bakery. If you want to blow four bucks!

Sheet Cakes should look around for a better name. "A one-layer level that you need two of" is more descriptive.

Because of the price it looks big enough at the bakery but dwindles in size when you start serving slabs to the bottomless little birthdaygoers. Who won't finish it, anyway. But still insist on a second helping!

Hi ho the cheerio, a motif we must have!

THE PRESENTS DEPT. has-got slightly out of hand, too. This being because the guest has to keep up w/the party-giver who loads the little Lilliputs down like contestants on a giveaway show.

Our 7-yr.-old daughter recently returned home from ONE party w/a string of pearls, a Japanese figurine, assorted balloons, a plastic ring, coloring book and crayons. Not to mention the fancy hat and an empty candy container.

When the mother of the Giver goes through THIS a couple of times, she totes up the "take" and feels like a Piker if she doesn't graduate her children's giving to the next birthday bracket (racket?) of $2.00 & Upward presents. And she SHUDDERS at the prospect of putting on her own child's natal day shindig.

FOR SHINDIGS THEY ARE! Not inferring, of course, that kids would EVER think of kicking each other at birthday parties. Not unless the candy hunt gets highly competitive.

But in these modern times, we must "live modern"—on the Qui Vivre, Kids, as they say. And we MUST have a Motif. For a Motif is the manner in which our celebrants are accustomed to celebrating, so a Motif we must have!

Then having picked a theme—Mickey Mouse, Cowboys, Pirates, Ballerinas, we, the doting mothers, must seek out appropriate napkins, tableclothes, decorations, favors, even FOOD to fit the pattern.

HANG THE COST and spare no expense! The Moppets may not know the difference but it pleases us Mamas to be so clever! So Arty!

And presents are not so long-lasting anymore. The guest usually choosing a gift that HE or SHE would like to play w/during the party's duration which usually ends up broken, and stuffed under the chair cushion, where Mama discovers it months later when she hears a rattle in her vacuum.

Tilden fun and tummyaches—

In my day and yours, gifts ran the gamut from a delicate Japanese fan (we still have it) to a homemade pincushion (which came apart) to a slightly-used edition of "Raggedy Ann" (our dghtr. still reads). And back then, we, too, admired what we gave (one's present is always the BEST one!), but play with? Tear out or wind up? Pull to pieces? NEVER!

The attire then, for young partygoers, was Sunday or Party "Best"—polished patents and a sashed organdy for girls. This simple basic outfit still goes (nylon edging out organdy) but NOW four layers of petticoats are de rigeur, which somewhat hampers one in a potato-sack race. Or a peanut push. Or jumping up and down on the living room sofa.

And kids cater to costumes as Cinderellas or Roy Rogers. Or in their best beat-up barbecue clothes. If a trip to Tilden is the ticket, they'll all have their Eats & Treats well-homogenized by the time they've taken two turns on the train, the merrygoround and the pony rides. But still they're not satisfied, STILL raring to go!

AND THEY NEVER NEVER get sick until they're back home again in their own little beds!

But don't get me wrong! I LOVE kids' parties. Especially those of my own chicks. And I go ALL OUT like YOU do!

But I'm glad MY childhood mem'ries recall a long dining room table w/flowers and linen, crepepaper streamers in a fluttering maze overhead, candy baskets that were saved, full, to savor each piece slowly at home, the hushed QUIET as each gift was SHYLY opened —and the important READING of the birthday card.

IN THESE TIMES OF PACKAGE-MIX cakes and instant frosting, I'M glad, too, at least, that the children and I have "Pin the Tail on the Donkey" in common. It gives us SOME bond on their birthdays.

He accidently rolled off the bank and his roller fell on top of him, killing him instantly.

The accident occurred three miles north of Orinda Village.

Monday Ultimatum Faces Orinda on Pine Grove Buy

The Orinda Association has until Monday to decide whether it wishes to purchase the Pine Grove, according to a letter received by the Board of Directors Monday night from A. S. Glickbarg, president of Pacific Intermountain Express.

Price quoted to the association in the letter was $142,000. This is the first mention of the $142,000 price tag on the 10.7 acre parcel. Previous prices were listed as 134,000 and $106,000 for the land to be used as a civic center for Orinda.

The letter stated, according to Art Flint, press relations secretary for the Orinda Association, "Unless a definite commitment is made by Monday, you may consider any previous conversation held with PIE is now no longer pertinent and we will make other disposition with the property."

If there were other bidders on the property or if PIE had been negotiating with some other firm for the purchase of the land was not known by the directors of the association.

Flint commented that the board decided to study the matter more closely to find if it had the means of procurring the property for community use.

The group met on the Orinda Association property to make a survey of it and walked over to the Pine Grove site to make sure it understood "the lay of the land."

The directors received estimates on property holdings which were obtained after a survey. These holdings include:

Parcel One, 1.45 acres, referred to as the Library Site, $12,300; Parcel Two, located north of Irwin Way near the church, 9.95 acres,$6500 and Parcel Three, a triangular section near the Orinda School, 4.79 acres, $16,500.

The total acreage is 16.19 and the total value as estimated by the survey is $35,300.

Whether this property would be sold or, at least, used as a payment was not disclosed by the directors.

"As far as I know this matter has not even been discussed by the board or the membership," Flint noted.

The dispute over the Pine Grove has been actively underway ever since East Bty Municipal Utility District sold the land in 1955 to PIE.

PIE had planned to erect a $750,000 office building on the heavy fire from the Orinda Association and residents of Orinda.

The Orinda Association lost a court decision to halt construction of the building. PIE in recent months has announced that it does not wist to build on the site elsewhere. Walnut Creek has approached PIE with a proposal for the company to build in the city. Concord has also made location.
its bid for the companys future

If the Orinda Association would call a special meeting before Monday was not known by Flint.

"I really don't know what the next step will be," said Flint.

Brown Yells 'Politics' in Board Action

Claiming he is a victim of politics, Harry A. Brown, Contra Costa Sheriff, fired back at the Civil Service Commission for its reversal of his suspension of Mrs. Florence Drummond, juvenile control officer.

Mrs. Drummond had been accused by Brown of attending a three day conference in San Francisco against orders, using a county car without permission and neglecting her duties.

Brown stated "In my opinion certain members of the commission are playing politics. If they would keep their noses out of politics and do their work more efficiently, we'd have a lot better county government.

"If the members of the sheriff's or any other department can use the county cars for pleasure, it's about time we opened the gates and let the taxpayers come in and use them too," said Brown.

Brown explained that he had no "grudge" against Mrs. Drummond, but that he would have taken similar action against any person in the department who did what she had done.

Brown has lost out to the Civil Service Commission in the three disciplinary actions which have been appealed to the commission since he took office in 1955.

Orinda's Spiegel Presents Petition For Incorporation

Ernest I. Spiegl, chairman of the Orinda Incorporation Committee, presented to the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors, a nine pound document filled with signatures of Orinda residents Tuesday in Martinez.

The petition calls for the incorporation of Orinda as a city. Spiegl commented that of the 5000 names listed there were at least 3300 valid signatures. Some of the signatures are duplicated, he said.

The county clerk was given the task of checking the signatures by the supervisors. He will have 30 days in which to determine whether the petition represents owners of at least 25 percent of the assessed valuation of the proposed city.

Supervisor Ray S. Taylor, chairman from the third district, noted that "Orinda should rave been a city years ago," he added, "It will make a very fine city."

Assoc. Directors Have Special Meet On Pine Grove, PIE Property

Directors of the Orinda Association met in special session Wednesday night to consider an ultimatum presented to the Association at its Monday night meeting.

As a result of the recent action taken by Pacific Intermountain Express, indicating that its offer to sell Pine Grove to Orinda will expire Monday the directors outlined a 5 point course of action.

The directors voted to appeal superior court judgment in the Pine Grove issue. In arriving at this decision to file an appeal the Association directors considered factors including:

1. The right to file an appeal will expire July 26.
2. Purchase of Pine Grove is desirable for community purposes.
3. PIE indicated that there is a prospective buyer negotiating for purchase of the Pine Grove.
4. Continuing court action may give more time to consumate negotiations with PIE.
5. A reversal of rezoning from Administrative Office Zone to Residential Agricultural is the continuing desire of Orinda for the Pine Grove.

Therapy Volunteers Give 1800 Hours in 6 Months

Members of the auxiliary units of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center gave 1832 hours of volunteer service to the Center for the first six months of this year, according to a report by Mrs. Charles L. Smith, chairma of the Unit Coordinating Council.

This type of volunteer service is in addition to fund raising activities.

According to Mrs. Juanita Benoy, administrator, the work is the equivalent of 229 eight-hour working days.

A TOTAL OF 648 hours of the volunteer service was spent as clerical, physical therapy and occupational therapy aides at the Center.

Another 1184 hours were given to driving patients to and from the Center, or a total of 26,958 miles.

Without this service, 61 patients would not have been able to receive needed therapy and rehabilitation treatment because of lack of transportation facilities.

Mrs. Smith reported that one-third of the Center's first-months' income was raised by the auxiliary units through such activities as fashion shows, teas, card parties, rummage sales, dinner dances, newspaper subscription drive, sale of old newspapers and the Thrift Shop.

There are at present 11 units made up of 395 active members and 300 associate and inactive members. Four junior units including teenage girls and young matrons assist the senior groups.

THE LINNET UNIT, which operates a thrift shop on East Street in Walnut Creek, estimates a minimum of 1500 hours given by senior members to the operaiton of the shop, and 312 hours by junior members.

The Thrift Shop, which is open every Thursday, Friday and Saturday, offers good used items for sale ranging from wearing apparel to kitchen supplies.

It has been operated by the Linnet Unit for 4 years.

Volunteers who have assisted as aides at the Center include Mesdames Harold Vincent, B. B. Wilder, Richard Bliesner, John W. Warren, Nathan Levy, Donald Johnson, Charles W. Berry, Edward A. Behrens and Miss Charlotte Walworth of Walnut Creek.

Drive carefully; the life you save may be your own.

. . . this is the genuine imported mohair!

95.00 Mohair SUITS $60.67

This is the most premium grade imported mohair. You'll know it by the distinctive texture, the deep sheen in the weave.
It's woven from twin-spun mohair. Only 8% of the world output of mohair is genuine twin-spun. This scarcity has meant that genuine imported mohair is usually found in $100 suits . . . and up.
This year we established an unusual buying arrangement with a top source of genuine imported mohair suits. We're getting these suits at an amazingly low cost. That's why we can pass them on to you for less than $65. $60.67 for imported mohair is plenty unusual, yes. But it's not unusual for Johnny's to get in on the ground floor on outstanding buys. We make it our business to bring you the highest quality at the lowest discount price.

If you can not find a mohair suit in your size and color, Johnny's will make one to your size, at no extra charge

Baldwin Opposes TV Channel West Of Oakland Hills

A proposed television license for the San Francisco Bay Area has been strongly opposed by Congressman John Baldwin "unless the applicant proposes to establish its transmission tower in the hills east of Berkeley and Oakland."

In a letter addressed to the Federal Communications Commission, the Sixth District Republican contended that 250,000 peope in central Contra Costa County and Solano County would be "permanently barred" from adequate television reception unless a tower were erected east of the Berkeley-Oakland hills.

BALDWIN SAID THAT it was his understanding that the proposed channel—television channel two—was the last that would be authorized by the FCC for the Bay Area.

"I can speak from personal experience," the congressman said, "because I live in the city of Martinez . . . This city has such poor reception from the existing four television stations that a television cable company has had to come into the area and put a large reception tower on a nearby hill and practically everyone . . . has had to pay rather extensive additional cost."

Baldwin called the channel license a "most urgent matter" and said that the FCC should "give great weight to the problem."

AT PRESENT THERE are four television channels located in the Bay Area. All are west of the Berkeley-Oakland hills.

Baldwin's letter concluded: "Will you please let me know what steps can be taken to give recognition to this problem in the granting of the license."

Alums Fete Attended by Four Locals

Four residents of Lafayette attended alumnae reunion activities at Mills College recently.

They are Mrs. James A. Burris, Mrs. Lloyd Swayne Jr., Mrs. Charles Scharff, and Mrs. Herbert von Colditz.

They were among hundreds of alumnae from throughout the country taking part in the homecoming festivities of the 1957 Mills commencement weekend.

The four-day program started off with registration at Reinhardt House Alumnae Headquarters, and featured a pace-setting round of parties, open houses, campus tours, class luncheon and dinner functions.

Artists' Group Enrolls Three New Members

The Diablo Art Association has accepted three Contra Costans as new members. They are Wilma Murphy, 132 Quinterra Avenue, Danville; Norma Martinetti, 49 Manville Avenue Pittsburg, and Barbara Johnson, 220 Montecello Drive, Walnut Creek.

Portrait artist and D.A.A. member Kathy Madsen of Walnut Creek, was one of 12, out of over 400 entries, who received a first place award in the recent Berkeley Sidewalk Art Show. Her category was in the special painting field.

Along with Mrs. Madsen, who did quick portraits during the show, were several D.D.A. members some of whom were successful in selling their work. They are Vivian Cook and Jacqui Mathesen of Lafayette; Rolfe Williams and Edith Dinkin of Walnut Creek; Yvonne Herbert, Mary Lou Cann and Hazel Elling of Concord.

Holding local one-man shows in the Walnut Creek area during the month of July will be Jack Laycox of Walnut Creek at the Danville Village Theater. Hiram Meulendyke's painting may be seen in Comptons, Walnut Creek, and Evadne Wenker has two paintings hung in the Alamo Medical Center.

Lida Lawson is conducting a class in art fundamentals at 75 Jackson Way, Alamo. Anyone interested in joining the class, call VE 7-6093.

Reserve Unit Takes Training At Ft. Baker

Five area men are with the 449th Transportation Corps Fleating Craft Company, an Army reserve unit, during an annual summer training program at Fort Baker in Marin County.

They are Capt. Russell Smith of Lafayette, 1st Lieut. Harland Thompson of Walnut Creek, Warrant Officer Carl Rush of Concord, Master Sgt. Armand Annereau of Pleasant Hill, Sgt. Curtis Carter of Concord and Specialist Frederick Greenlee of Moraga.

The training will last about two weeks, ending next weekend. Main concern of unit members is the operation and maintenance of small craft up to 200 feet long used in harbor and inter-coastal areas.

Television Channel Going... And We Are Left Out Cold

The last available television channel has been promised to a station which would locate the transmitter and antenna in San Francisco, according to a decision of the Federal Communications Commission.

This decision, if it remains in effect, would forestall the possibility of any station ever being erected on this side of the Bay—a station which could serve Contra Costa County effectively.

The decision of the FCC regarding Channel 2 has been protested by State Senator George Miller and by Congressman John Baldwin.

We feel that there is indeed an injustice in the granting of a license to another station which would simply duplicate the service already provided for metropolitan areas, and would eliminate the possibility of service to our area, which is rapidly expanding.

Here are Senator Miller's statements regarding the situation:

I AM GREATLY concerned by a tentative decision of the Federal Communications Commission which—if it stands unchallenged—will discriminate against the residents of Contra Costa and Solano counties.

The FCC has indicated that it intends to grant a license for the operation of channel two—the last available television channel that could adequately serve the vast East Bay Area—to a San Francisco applicant whose transmitter would serve the same area as the other San Francisco stations.

This means that the last available television channel in this area—supposedly reserved for the fast growing East Bay—is going to be turned over to San Francisco interests.

By this action the FCC has destroyed our hopes of seeing the construction of a transmitter in the hills east of the bay so that its signals would be clearly received in all parts of Contra Costa and Solano counties.

I have reviewed the technical reports on the proposed coverage of the three applicants who seek to operate a station on channel two. Of the three, only one has proposed a solution to our television problems. This applicant would locate its transmitter high in the hills east of Berkeley and consequently would provide Grade A reception, not only to San Francisco and Oakland, but to the entire East Bay region. Its studios would be located in Oakland.

Therefore, I am extremely disturbed to discover that the applicant favored by the FCC in its tentative decision plans to construct its transmitter at San Bruno mountain, south of San Francisco—the site of the existing San Francis television transmitters!

If this situation remains unchanged, Contra Costa County—particularly the central part of the county—will receive little or no benefit from the new station.

IN VIEW OF THE poor reception of television programs originating out of San Francisco now, and the absence of a television station designed to primarily serve the East Bay, we in Contra Costa County and our neighbors in Solano county have a deep concern with this whole matter.

If the Federal Communications Commission's decision is affirmed, it will mean that San Francisco will have five television stations while Contra Costa County will continue to suffer the annoyances of fringe reception. I cannot see the justice in such a decision!

We have an urgent need for adequate television service in this area, particularly in the field of local public service programs, the programming of which has been hampered by our lack of access to the San Francisco stations.

I want to warn our citizens that there is a real possibility the FCC will act abruptly—without consideration for 250,000 residents of Contra Costa and Solano Counties—nearly half the entire population of the two counties.

In my estimation we should be seriously concerned. This is our last chance to get decent television viewing for Contra Costa County. I urge the citizens of Contra Costa and Solano Counties to make their protests known to the Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D. C. The FCC is expected to make its final decision and grant a license within a matter of a week or less.

I sincerely hope that our representatives in Washington will take note of this situation and act to protect the best interests of the people in Contra Costa and Solano Counties. And I appeal to the Federal Communications Commission to give due consideration to our television reception problem and not act hastily.

Have You Tried Fish Lips?

By BOB RAPIDA

Never was one for quiz games BUT . . . that's one way to start off a conversation. Then again there's always the direct approach, the do you know type.

Every once in a while someone, either through conversation or writing, can drop a little bomb on you by just asking a question. Whether it's the direct approach or indirect approach really doesn't matter but whichever way it comes it can be very, to say the least, upsetting.

How much do you know about the community in which you live? About the people on your own block or the price of fish lips in a Chinese restaurant?

Granted the three are not related as such but all fall under categories which are of interest, generally speaking, to all.

The first relates primarily to what is known about national, international, local and state affairs. "Who's the governor of California?" type question. Anyone can answer that.

Yet do you know who the 10th assembly district representative is or who's on the Hospital Board or the Mosquito Abatement District Board? You should . . . Not because someone might ask the question and it would be somewhat embarrassing to give a blank stare.

There's a lot of "so what" envolved. So who cares who lives down the street, up the street or anything else about people around us? Good point. Who cares until they step on our toes and we on theirs.

Then we or they can call the local law and take care of the situation.

Better still. Take five minutes off and meet the guy next door.

If you know him, go 150 feet and meet the guy two doors down.

Fish lips are a pretty odd dish but all in all it's quite an experience to just try something new. Maybe it's not up your alley. Try something different to get interested in. Try bowling, going to the races, anything to get a different picture of what's going on.

There's nothing like living in your own little world and watching things on the outside. Try walking on the outside once in a while.

It'll do you a world of good.

"It is the wish of the Foundation that worthy and deserving students engaged in studies preparatory to graduate medical education and in need of financial assistance be selected for grants who have demonstrated the aptitude and character for pursuing their studies with a view to becoming medical doctors and thereby being of service to their fellow men."

Awards a re directed by the office of the president of St. Mary's and administered completely by the college.

Liquidation, Vodka, Etc. Fill Week's Timely Topics

By PAT PENDING

I see the gentle Russians are at it again. It appears four top Reds are scheduled for a liquidation ceremony—and I don't mean Vodka toasts! Molotov is probably contemplating a cocktail—a Socrates' cocktail—HEMLOCK!

* * * *

I think it is real sporting of us to give the Russkies the secret of our "clean" H bomb. Now, if they should drop a few on us, at least we won't be contaminated!

We will travel in outer space yet. We just might develop a bomb that will blow us clean out into it!

* * * *

The tools of war have certainly changed since I was caught cold by the draft during International Fracas Number Two but, I'll bet that basic training hasn't.

* * * *

The Army calls it "basic training" because you seldom get off base—much less home! I'm sure that they give just as many shots now as they used to. They gave me every kind known except bourbon including one for Tetanus.

* * * *

I never could figure out why they gave a shot to prevent lockjaw when your sergeant wouldn't let you open your mouth anyway!

* * * *

But we GI's didn't have nightmares about atomic bombs then—only dreams of anatomic blondes!

* * * *

I'm writing this column on the Fourth of July but it sure doesn't seem like Independence Day. I haven't heard a single firecracker—only the screech of tires; the shattering impact of colliding autos; the wail of sirens.

* * * *

The Do-Gooders have managed to sabotage traditional fireworks. They tell us that it was necessary because kids got burned fingers. Personally, I doubt if anything like five hundred persons died from fireworks, sky rockets, and Roman Candles during July 4th as we used to celebrate it.

* * * *

The National Safety Council has predicted that that many of us will depart this Vale of Tears via the auto route this week end. So why not ban automobiles?

* * * *

We tell our kids that they mustn't shoot off firecrackers because they might get hurt—then we put them in a trench 5,700 yards from ground zero and set off the biggest cracker ever. Yes, firecrackers are dangerous but we adults are playing around with the most deadly explosive ever known!

* * * *

Firecrackers are perfectly safe if handled with intelligence. So are automobiles. And so are kids if their parents don't sit in some tavern guzzling while their neglected offspring experiments with firecrackers, autos or marijuana!

* * * *

It is paradoxes such as these that make me wonder if the Human Race isn't going to end up in a tie!

Letters to The Editor

FLUORIDATION

Dear Editor:

Henry F. Helmhotz, M.D., chairman, Committe on Health, National Congress of Parents and Teachers, wrote an introduction to an article for the National Parent Teacher (The P.T.A. Magaine) entitled, "How Effective is Fluoridation?"

In speaking of those who have rejected fluoridation he stated that either these people have been given insufficient, inaccurate information, or there has been mistranslation or Misinterpretation of available evidence.

I SUBMIT THERE is little trouble in finding medical and dental authorities, or professional and health organizations of national scope who support fluoridation of public water supplies. Such is not the case for those who are anti-fluoridation in belief. Overwhelming maporities of medical and dental personnel are definitely in agreement with fluoridation of water for the welfare of our children and those generations to come.

The American Dental Association has a booklet available from its Dental Education Department entitled "Fluoridation Facts — Answers to Criticisms of Fluoridation." Here are the facts:

"It is a well known fact that high concentrations of fluorides found naturally in public water supplies may lead to a condition known as dental fluorosis, often called mottled enamel. In such areas, the degree of dental fluorosis may be such that the dental enamel readily picks up stains which discolor the teeth.

WHERE THE drinking water contains a concentration of 1ppm fluorine, there is evidence of a very mild degree of dental fluorosis in less than 10 per cent of children using such water; however, this degree of dental fluorosis does nat cause staining. It can be detected only by dentists with special training and experience in recognizing such slight degrees as are present.

In fact, many dentists believe that the increased whiteness associated with 1 ppm fluorine in drinking water actually enhances the beauty of the teeth. The advantage of fluoridation is that the development of decay-resistant teeth is promoted without the staining of the teeth."

Any one of our public health organizations, the largest locally of which is the State Department of Public Health in Berkeley, are completely cooperative in furnishing valid authoritative information on the benefits of fluoridation. Mrs. Brown has now donated some anti-fluoridation and nutrition literature to our public library. As a contribution to community education I will be only too happy to donate appropriate contemporary literature, from sources which are deemed authoritative, at an early date.

ON AUGUST 27, 1956, Ellis D. Sox, MD.., Director of the Department of Public Health in San Francisco, noted that the city was starting on its fifth year of fluoridation and their city government for taking this forward step so strongly recommended by their dental and medical professions.

Howe long will ittata ek w?

How long will it take us to reap the benefits in the reduction of dental caries in our younger population through proper fluoridation of our water supply?

Richard W. Leland.

MUSIC!

Dear Editor:

I just had a brainstorm!

My husband used to play cornet in high school, junior college and in the city, or municipal band in Brainerd, Minn.I have tried to urge him to get out the old horn and practice, but of no avail, mainly because I can't play the piano and he seems to be too busy.

I am enclosing a small picture from a recent newspaper which gave me courage and incentive to write to you, as I recently read of the honors bestowed upon you for your interest in this community, and for the fine work The Sun has been doing.

Now to the idea—I love band concerts and band music, so wondered why our very own community doesn't do something like this, perhaps on a voluntary basis, or for charitable reasons.

It would create parking problems, but someone would sell a lot of popcorn and peanuts, and our towns people would come out and have a lot of fun.

I am not in the know-how to start anything like this, but since you are, thought I'd give you my idea and see what you think of it.

Thanks for your time, and I do enjoy your Sun.

Letters to The Editor

HELPING YOUTH

Dear Editor:

The letter in the June 14 Sun headed "Juveniles," brings to mind a problem that is closely related.

Many people are concerned with growing problems with juveniles —and there is a constant cry that "Something must be done." Unfortunately, it often is in the form of "Someone else should do something."

There is a great deal that can be done—and there are many people who know what to do and try to do it. Unfortunately, as in many other cases, the restriction on what they can do is in the form of the amount of money they have available.

THE WARDEN of San Quentin has stated that he can not recall a single case of a Boy Scout being sent there.

Former Chief of Police Les Devine of Oakland, while pleading the case of the Oakland Boys Club, reported that their West Oakland Branch has done more to cut juvenile problems in West Oakland than anything the police department had been able to do.

WHO SUPPORTS these activities? They are largely funded through the United Crusade.

In the case of Boys Clubs just about 80 to 90 per cent of their operating budgets comes from United Crusade or a small group of interested supporters.

In the case of Boy Scouts the same is true—as it applies to the support of the local council.

THERE IS an interesting point about Boy Scouts—most parents of scouts think they pay all the costs of scouting because they pay for uniform, camping, $1 annual dues, and they know that some one organization provides the meeting facilities.

They also know that the troop operates largely on volunteer workers.

Unfortunately, the $1 dues goes to the national headquarters—and the local council, which actually creates and runs the local program, is financed largely through United Crusade funds.

I hope that all your readers who are truly interested in combating juvenile delinquency will remember that the United Crusade is probably the largest single force in our community providing the tools to do this job.

LIBRARY LEAGUE

Dear Editor:

In the July issue of your paper you had a story and picture about one of the most delightful children's events which has taken place in Concord during our four years' residence in this community—namely, the costume parade and puppet show in honor of the Concord Library's 40th birthday.

I am sure that all of the parents who participated in the creation of the many original costumes which were worn and who attended the party will agree that the Library League should be encouraged to plan this type of creative program as an annual summer event.

Who Will Run for What In the Next Election?

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

The political pot is starting to boil again—with the primary election only 11 months away.

No. 1 question mark is the race for assemblyman from this district. The odds are that Incumbent Don Doyle will not run again. This was reported exclusively in The Sun last May.

Don will probably aim for bigger and better things and this will cause a mad rush to capture the assembly seat. This happened when Bob Condon left the Assembly to run for Congress. I think seven candidates slugged it out for the job. Doyle was first but a close second was John Nejedly. He's the Walnut Creek city attorney attorney for the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District and very active in local affairs.

Put Up Your Money . . .

If Don doesn't run, I'll bet a buck that Nejedly will toss his hat into the ring. He has been working toward this. But I'll also bet there will be other Republican hats in the ring—plus at least two Democrat hats.

The grapevine says that Lafayette's Jack Pedder has his eye on the assembly post. He took on George Miller Jr. last year for state senator but lost.

This will be a mighty interesting campaign, so keep your eye on it. For more information read the dope story in the first section of this Sun.

What Will the D.A. Do?

Another hot race could be for district attorney. Incumbent Frances Collins has not announced one way or the other. Some rumors say he has had enough and will retire. Others say that the "County Powers" will keep him in—unless they are sure they can elect someone else.

The county district attorney is a key job and affects a lot of people. Certain people and groups can profit by having the right D.A. in office. And remember, the D.A.'s job is highly lucrative in its own right. That's because the D.A. can also have a private law practice and Collins has enjoyed a large, profitable business for many years.

If Collins runs again, he probably will be challenged by someone who wants to clean up this mess. This will be no easy task.

And Now the Sheriff's Race

Another race that promises to be fun is for sheriff. I presume Incumbent Harry Brown will run again.

From the day he was elected, it was certain he would have opposition.

He has refused to join the Martinez Machine, if you can call it that. He has been outspoken and has refused to play politics. Certainly, at times he has been anything but diplomatic—to put it mildly. There could be three or four candidates against him.

Congressman? John Baldwin is a strong incumbent. The Democrats will have to come up with a tremendous candidate to whip him.

At this time, the most interesting race in the state is, of course, for governor. Will Senator Bill Knowland run? It looks like it. And Goodwin Knight will be in there slugging it out. Will Attorney General Pat Brown try to cop the prize for the Democrats? What a scrap this promises to be.

Elections are democracy. I hope you enjoy them as much as I do.

On The Lighter Side

by INA BLIESNER
YE 4-3818

Wonderful to have been away! A complete change—such as no children, no cooking, no cleaning, no beds to make; are you all drooling? Wonderful to be back! Yes, to all of the things that I mentioned, plus bac k to visiting with all of you nice people every week.

Most wonderful of all—the sight of three radiant young faces peering from the "Daylight" as it pulled in to Martinez. After tumbling down the steps, each tried to out-talk the other as they attempted to explain how they spent the money earned at Grandfathers farm on "you." For Dad, a glossy pack of scenic cards and an issue of "Sports Illustrated" and for Mother a filmy, silky sort of pink hankie which was made from Cactus! Honest!

ANOTHER ITEM FOR the treasure box. Wonderful, too, the way that wonderful gal, Connie Kienny, guest edited the column. Wish you could all know how much she has done for the Therapy Center and how we all love her. Of course, it goes both ways. We still laugh about how, when her time came, she called the Center—and sure enough, transportation was provided to the hospital in Alameda.

No service too great, we say! Thanks, Connie, and thanks to that "doll" Tommy, for sparing his "Mom" for a few hours.

Heres an interesting person

AND NOW, to news of others. Talked with Fran (Mrs. John) Anderson this morning. We've been working together on the Wedding Directors Committee at the Presbyterian Church—and what an interesting person she is. Daughter Mary Ann is attending summer school at Contra Costa Junior College after which the whole family will vacation in Phoenix, Arizona, their former home. Sprightly Sally, age four, is the other part of the Anderson family.

This is a quiet summer?

Jinny (Mrs. Beverly) Wilder, who is a Towhee and a regular volunteer at the Center every Monday—leaves next week for Ben Lomond where she will bravely attempt to ride herd on six nieces and nephews.

When asked, "Will Bev be there on week-ends?" she looked appalled and replied that he would not for he was still in his right mind. Sounds like a pretty good arrangement, though. Jinny and her two sisters-in-law take turns—thus giving two couples at a time a chance to vacation "away from it all." (Hope you can figure that out—am not sure I did.)

Towards the end of July, Jinny and Bev Wilder, who are avid folk dancers, will take off for the Folk Dance Camp at the College of Pacific at Stockton. Sounds like real fun. Days run something like this—classes all morning, lunch, rest, lectures given by folk dance experts from different parts of the globe, dinner and then dancing on the lawn—with Stockton townspeople as enthusiastic spectators.

Dora Cochrane, one of our Physical Therapists, left last Friday for two weeks at Lassen View Camp—where her mother is spending the summer. And Chris Christiensen, who's mother-in-law is the Center's Director, flew back to Germany leaving wife, Suzanee, and daughter, Pam, to spend one more month with the Benoys.

Welcome home, to where it's cool (?)

Several couples got together last Saturday evening at the home of the Bill Coffeys. The party was in honor of the Stanley Ekstroms who, with their two children, Connie and Steve, have spent the last three years in Bahrain, near the Persian Gulf. Before and after a scrumptious no-host buffet dinner, the guests enjoyed swimming in the Coffey's lovely pool and just catching up on old times in general. Among those present were the Robert Simpsons and the glorious days at Lake Tahoe — oh! that lake sounds good today. Aren't you tired of roasting, too?

THE BILL FARRELLS (Vivian is a Lark) will be spending 10 Wayne Barretts. Both Camille and Pearl are Hummingbirds.

Every summer Pat White's (Mrs. Don Parle) mother, Ethel Smith (a truly fascinating person) comes down from her Eureka home to spend at least two months with the Whites in Orinda. This summer, however, she plans to take off on several interesting trips with friends. The first will be a tour of Yellowstone Park. I'm kinda disappointed that we won't be seeing as much of her for she's such fun.

Ah yes, a night on the town

A lucky "six-some" attended the Saturday afternoon performance of "South Pacific" in the City. Afterwards Joan and Don Hanley, Jeanne and Jack Tomlinson, and Nada Miller and Jim Heenan went to the "Star Light Roof" and then on-to famous "Paoli's" for dinners.

Hear that June and Bill McNevin (he's the president of the Orinda Country Club) really outdid themselves with "such a party" Sunday night following the 4th. of July Club tournament. The men, of course, were in huddles—discussing, naturally, their scores, (or why they didn't!).

So, that left the women in the usual huddles, too: discussing what? Of course—clothes, and vacations, perhaps. Speaking of clothes—June McNevin wore the daintiest white linen—with frosty pink ribbon beaded through the bodice. Shirley Hennings, a standout in a bright, striped, full-skirted cotton.

The Hennings have been hosts to several house-guests in the past few weeks. Among them, the Jack Rectors—who are so well known in these parts, and the famous Frank Leahys. Other famous personalities attending the McNevins lovely garden party were Frankie Albert and Ed Crowley.

MARGARET CRAWFORD is a busy one these days. After directing the show presented at the home of the Paul R. Handlerys for the Azalia Branch of the Childrens Hospital June 5, she went on the Palm Springs and later met Irene Theis (they are partners in that smart shop) in Los Angeles where they spent the remainder of the week choosing fashions for the October 2 Hummingbird (Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, of course) fashion show to be given at the Tom Bond residence at 10 Boulevard Court, Walnut Creek.

More Hummingbird news—last year's pot-luck dinner and swimming party was such a success that same is being repeated at Betty and Bill Evans on the 13th. of July.

Gong to Start Festivities At Oriental Garden Party

The sound of a gong will be the signal for festivities to begin at the Oriental Garden Party to be hosted by Sycamore Branch members tomorrow night at the Lafayette home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Juras.

Garbed in their native dress, Calvin Mew, age 11, and his brother, Arnold, 12, will officiate at the enormous gong. The boys are nephews of Dr. and Mrs. Howard H. Jan, who are lending their talents in coordinating the 6 'til 9 soiree.

A style show of Chinese fashions from ancient to modern times by Norma of Dalen, San Francisco designer, with a sextet of professionel models from the designer's studio, will be a poolside feature of the evening. Supplementing the mannequin contingent will be two Laurel Junior Branch members, Mrs. Perry Holmes and Mrs. H. E. Littlejohns Jr.

Commentaries on the clothes will be given by Mrs. Florian McGuire Moore, who will be up from her peninsula home for the Children's Hospital of the East Bay benefit, and Dr. Jan.

Another highlight of the evening will be several dancing acts including Louise Au Ling of San Francisco, in her "Sword and Ribbon Dance."

The gardens and grounds of the Juras residence will be decorated with colorful lanterns, lighted tourches, inverted parasols doubling as flower containers, and gaily painted paper streamers flowing from the branches of the trees.

Adding a finishing touch will be gardenias floating in the pool. Responsible for the exotic decor are Mrs. Forrest Knight and Mrs. T. Smith, chairman and co-chairman respectively of the decorating committee.

Assisting Mrs. Juras as co-....chairman is Mrs. Hal Peck, while Mrs. Edward B. Kelly is in charge of refreshments; Mrs. Leonard A. Komor and Mrs. David C. Rust, food chairmen; and Mrs. Al Weimann and Mrs. George E. Saxe, tickets.

Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Saxe, OLympic 2-7074.

Mayten Enters Exhibit Tea At Claremont

Summer vacation finds members of the Mayten Branch, Children's Hospital of the East Bay, working very hard on articles to be entered in the Exhibit Tea at the Claremont Hotel in November.

Mrs. Myron Osmunson, chairman of the committee is working with Mrs. Fred Cook as her assistant. The members have met at Mrs. Osmunson's home in their work sessions.

Mayten members are also working very hard on their "Make Mine Country Style" dance and country fair to be held in Lafayette in September.

Mrs. Roger Patterson, dance chairman has organized her committees and will announce the chairmen soon.

Janet Bailey Is Married To Mr. Bryce

Solemn ceremonies performed by Rev. James Upshaw united Janet Bailey of Walnut Creek and James Bryce of Mound, Minn., June 22 in the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church.

A reception was held afterwards in the church social rooms. The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Bailey of 2048 Walnut Boulevard, were with the couple to receive guests.

After a honeymoon trip to Minnesota and a visit at the home of the groom's father, Alexander Bryce, the couple will live in East Palo Alto, where Mr. Bryce is a staff member of a bank.

Mrs. Robin McKeown was matron of honor, and John Gould was best man.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of chantilly lace, fashioned with a bouffant skirt and a baeau neckline.

Her illusion veil was attached to a tiara. She carried the traditional bouquet.

Sandy Slingsby Is Bride of Bob Carlisle

One of the most beautiful brides of the season was Sandra Lu Slingsby who married Bob Curtiss Carlisle, June 29, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Walnut Creek.

Rev. Wilfred H. Hodgkin officiated at the impressive Episcopalian rites. The bride was given away by her father, Perk A. Slingsby, and was attended by Dee Walker, maid of honor, and bridesmaids Joan Schuppert, Bev Westman, Arlene Riel and Sue Ann Carlisle, a sister of the groom.

For her wedding, Sandy chose a white gown of hand-embroidered tulle designed with a full-chapel-sweep train. The fitted bodice was fashioned with tiny cap sleeves and scallop off-the-shoulder effect.

HER ELBOW-length French illusion veil attached to a crown headpiece encrusted with pearls. She carried her paternal grandmother's white prayerbook, which was adorned with two white orchids and cascading stephanotis arranged on silk illusion.

Her grandmother carried the same prayerbook at her wedding nearly 50 years ago. Tucked in the bride's ensemble was an heirloom handkerchief which belonged to her paternal great-grandmother. For something blue, she wore the traditional blue garter.

The five bridesmaids were attired in identical waltz-length gowns of pale pink lace over taffeta designed with a long torso and full circle skirt. Their headpieces were matching pink veils fashioned with velvet pompoms on top. The maid of honor's bouquet was a cascade arrangement of dark pink carnations centered with tiny rosebuds. The bridesmaids carried Colonial bouquets of pale pink carnations.

Paul Wright of Walnut Creek, was best man. Ushers were Edward Carlisle of Berkeley and James Carlisle of Lafayette, brothers of the benedict; Gerald Halstenrud of Walnut Creek and Gordon Napolitano of Lafayette.

MRS. SLINGSBY, mother of the bride, wore an aqua chiffon dress of pure silk with matching purse and shoes, tiny white veiled hat and gloves. Her corsage was a white orchid pinned at the waist.

Mrs. Carlisle selected a water-color floral print with chocolate brown duster, tiny veiled hat and matching accessories. Her corsage was brown orchids.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Walnut Creek Women's Club. The bridal couple received best wishes against a floral background of white gladiolias and stock.

SANDY IS THE daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perk A. Slingbsy of 2505 Buena Vista Avenue, Walnut Creek.

Sandy is a graduate of Walnut Creek Grammer and Las Lomas High School.

Bob's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Carlisle of Lafayette. He received his elementary education from Cragmont and Garfield Schools in Berkeley, and later attended Acalanes High School. Currently Bob is serving with the United States Army, stationed at Ft. Lewis, Washington.

Christian Science

How consistent prayer, based on spiritual understanding of God, brings health and freedom will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Christian Science churches in this area are located at 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda, and 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek. The Christian Science Society of Pleasant Hill meets at the Hillcrest Congregational Church on Gregory Lane.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon on "Sacrament," is the Golden Text from Matthew (6:6): "Thou, whe nthou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy rFathe which seeth in secret shall rewar dthee openly."

Selections to be read rfom "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (4:3-5): "What we most need is the prayer of fervent desire for growth in grace, expressed in patience, meekness, love and good deeds."

The following will be among passages read from the Bible (Psalms 19:14): "Let the words of thy mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength and my redeemer."

Frick Featured At Ice Follies

Mr. Frick, the world's most famous skating comic, believes in keeping up to date.

That's why he's a prospector in search of uranium in this year's "Ice Follies," now at Winterland. His main "prop" is a geiger counter and in his hands it's really a funny contraption which get funny results.

What he fails to discover in the way of uranium in his new comedy skit, he makes up in discovering weminine beauty. In this case, his discovery is pretty Gail Foster, an Ice Folliette whose home is in Larkspur.

Mr. Frick, an "Ice Follies" star for 19 years who is the forty-ish side in age, continues to be as nimble on skates as the most youthful members of the cast.

"On ice you just don't slow up," he commented recently. "It won't let you."

Bruce Copelands Enjoy Homecoming

Mr .and Mrs. Bruce Copeland, 3182 Teigland Road, Lafayette, recently attended the Homecoming of Connecticut General Life Insurance Company. Copeland is associated with the San Francisco office of Connecticut General.

Major event of the homecoming activities was a tour of Connecticut General's new home office building located five miles from downtown Hartford. The building, designed by Skidmore, Owings & Merrill, was recently selected by the American Institutes of Architects as one of the "Ten Buildings i nAmerica's Future."

It is situated on a 275-acre tract o flovely rolling countryside in the Connectitcut River Valley.

FOR LAND'S SAKE

By LLOYD K. KING

MARSHALL & McKINLEY (realtors) finding ready market for the two-story eastern-type houses they are building in FOOTHILL PARK, Pleasant Hill . . . (11 priced around $26,000 sold in last eight months). Are so pleased with acceptance they have taken on sales in two other similar developments.

FAY CHANEY (Chaney Construction Company) . . . after exploring various fields of residential building, including the luxury price range is again re-emphasizing the smaller homes with which he had such success a few years back — working from 4 stock plans he can deliver a three bedroom, one bath house for $8,900, exclusive of lot.

TOM STONE (news sensation of recent months) referred to by papers as "Atherton Financier" this week visited the town he lived in while building his financial empire . . . ORINDA. Just came back from a two-month Hawaiian vacation.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE . . . COOL

If you are building a new home, don't be afraid to check into the cost of air-conditioning . . . You might be pleasantly surprised. Costs are fairly low when it can be worked in with the original heating installation—some people don't think it will ever again get as hot as it has been—it might though!!

THE BAY AREA Council's Report which indicated Contra Costa County grew 44,000 from natural increases (births over deaths) in the last six years, was no surprise. Anyone who has counted tricycles on the streets in some of our subdivisions might even have guessed higher (you have to count the tricycles because the kids are so hard to find when you're looking for them).

THEY INDICATED, however, a considerably lower amount of net immigrants . . . only 12,400. They must have missed a few in this category. FEMALE CENSUS TAKERS NOTE . . . two bachelors just immigrated this week to a pooled residence in Lafayette. . . . JOE DUFFEL (Morinda Corporation) and VERN SCHAEFFER (Loan Department — Mason-McDuffie Company) . . . (phone YE 4-4326 for further statistical information) . . .

ELMER GATES (ex-Walnut Creek salesman now with Ronayne Sales Company in Concord) mentioned the hottest financing deal in the County. $500 down, including closing costs — 4½ per cent interest rate — 30-year term TO NON-VETERANS. This is available on houses the Veterans Administration has taken over in the Concord area.

TOM CLAUSEN, who has been selling real estate in the Central Contra Costa area for the past six years, just joined BILL HAYWARD'S STAFF . . . CLARENCE GRIBBIN, until recently associated with Bill Hayward, is now with JACK WOLVERTON . . . the comment was made that . . . "he has gone from the shortest to the shortest and if he makes one more change it will have to be to the office of a taller broker. . . ."

The latest Bulletin from the Contra Costa Real Estate Mart indicates that of the eight sales made in the last few days, the lowest priced house was $16,500 and they ranged up to $42,500. Out stand ard of living sure seems to be going up . . .

Locals to Sail On Navy Ships

Seaman erome L. Elson, 501 Evergreen Drive, Convord, will report to the Yeomen Class "A" school at San Diego Naval Training Center Sunday.

Concord Drops Ballgame 5-4; Cellar Spot for WC

The Ninth District American Legion baseball race remained a five-team fight through last weekend's games as second-place Lafayette scored a pair of shutout wins and first place El Cerrito won a single game by forfeit.

The El Cerritans, now 6-2 in the standings, won by forfeit from a Walnut Creek squad unable to field a full team.

LAFAYETTE MOVED UP to a tie in the games-behind column. A five-hit shutout by Steve Jordan against Walnut Creek on Sunday and a fine three-hit whitewash by Mike Kritscher at Richmond on Saturday moved the Lafayette nine to a 7-3 mark.

Other teams still in contention include San Pablo, 6-3; Harry Ells of Richmond, 6-4 and Richmond, 6-5.

Concord was virtually eliminated from the pennant picture Sunday when they dropped a ten-inning heartbreaker 5-4 to Richmond.

THE CONCORD TEAM broke a 3-3 nine inning deadlock with a run in the top of the 10th on Bill Locatellit's single, a stolen base, an error and a squeeze bunt by Jim McClellan.

But Richmond came back in its half of the inning to win the game on the strength of a pair of singles and three bases on balls issued by reliever Phil Seyer.

Lee Grichunin started for the Concord nine and hurled six innings. Seyer, who hit a pinch-hit double in the sixth to give Concord a short-lived 3-2 lead, finished the game.

RICHMOND PITCHER Gambs went the distance, surrendering six hits.

Catcher Bill Prince, a .158 hitter going into the game, led the winners with three hits in four trips, including the single that drove in the winning run.

The Lafayette-Walnut Creek game was strictly no contest. Led by catcher Dave Bojarksy who had four for five with four rbi's, Lafayette pounded Pat O'Connor of the cellar-dwelling WC club for 17 hits.

THE WINNERS SCORED in every inning except the first and coasted behind Jordan's five-hitter.

In the Saturday contest Kritscher and Richmond hurler Gary Faria matched three-hitters, but Lafayette bunched two of their hits with a walk in the fifth inning to load the bases.

Kritscher then won his own game with a squeeze bunt and another run scored on Bob Marcello's infiled out.

Micro-Midget Now Popular In Race Circles

Sweeping the Bay Area is a new craze in auto racing, according to area men who plan to enter their "micro-midgets" in competition this summer.

Two Lafayette men and a Walnut Creek man have their "micro's" ready to go, and a number of others have been building them.

What is a "Micro-Midget?"

Bill DeFreze of Walnut Creek, who keeps his micro at his home at 141 Marlindia Court, told the Sun:

"THEY ARE probably the hottest idea anybody has had in a long time for using the tenth or twelfth mile tracks. They produce a terrific race without the great danger of injuries.

"They are the smallest adult racers built. They've been racing since 1946, and are recognized as a national sport just like the big cars. They are about a third the size of a midget, with either one or two cylinder engines, according to the specifications," he said.

DeFreze has had his micro midget for about six months. He built it himself.

The two Lafayette men who have micro's are John Barnason and Scotty Hovey.

BARNASON has his micro in San Leandro, and Hovey has his in Berkeley, where his business is.

Others have micro's in the building stage. They are Roy Allen of Walnut Creek and Fred and Don of Four Corners.

Others have been thinking about building their own micro's for racing. Building costs range from $100 to $500.

DeFreze said, "About a year ago, the president of our club, Bernie Schector, took his micro to the Oakland Exposition Building, where they hold regular midget racing.

"They were interested in the micro, and he was allowed to take it around the track there during intermission. The crowd liked it."

The club members, who are racing in Hayward, are looking for a track in the central county area, DeFreze added.

Orinda's Class B Tourney Won By Mrs. Haslett

Mrs. Don Haslett won the Class B tournament at the Orinda Golf and Country Club last Friday.

Mrs. Haslett shot a 88-21-67 and is a member of the Claremont Country Club. She shot the best game of her life in the tourney play.

In Class A competition Mrs. Lloyd Rossi took top honors with an 85-12-73.

Others in Class A competition were Mrs. G. A. Somers, 90-12-77; Mrs. James L. Sharp, 89-10-79, and Mrs. Pete Patch 83-4-79.

In the B competition, Mrs. Harry Say shot 92-17-75; Mrs. Fred Soloman 98-18-80.

MOTOR VEHICLES

A total of 66,875,000 motor vehicles, with a wholesale value of $95,800,000,000, have been produced and sold in the United States during the 10 years since 1947.

Winners Vie At Speedway Tomorrow

Hugh Purdy, Lee Humphers and Gene Dudley will be trying for their third victory of the season at Contra Costa Speedway tomorrow night in a 50-lap championship hardtop race.

Purdy joined the select class of two-time winners last Saturday night in the regular 25-lap feature. And he proved that he probably has the hottest car on the circuit when he set a new track record in the time trials of 16:49 seconds.

Humphers tied Purdy's lap record time and also set a new track mark in the trophy dash, going the four laps in 1:08.67.

Dudley, of course, is the leader in the Bay Cities Racing Association championship race and is always the man to beat in every start.

A full contingent of Sacramento drivers will make the journey to the track near Walnut Creek for the extra-length feature. Sure to be in contention are the two Bakers, Mel and Wally, Frank Elliott and Russ Moody.

Bob Caswell, last year's BCRA champ, will lead a East Bay group that includes Lee Waybright, Ted Montague, Chet Thomson and Hughie Payne.

At least 40 cars are expected to enter the nine-race card with the time trials at 7 p.m. deciding the qualifiers for the main event.

Braves Win Babe Ruth Loop Final

A seventh inning triple by Larry Zimmerman highlighted a three-run rally as the pennant winning Concord Babe Ruth League Braves whipped the Phillies 8-7 in the season's final scheduled games Saturday.

The Braves dropped a July 4 contest 8-6 to the Richmond team that went on to win the county Babe Ruth title.

BUT THE VIC JONES Roofing sponsoredclub led all the way in the Concord league, finishing with an 11-3 record.

The runner-up Flying A's also won in the final inning, edging the Pirates 5-4 on the strength of a seventh inning-single by Paul Chaplick and a Pirate error.

Dick Elling had a three-hitter for the A's.

BEST PITCHING performance of the day was by the Cub's Chuck Midland who had a no-hitter going until the fifth and finished with a four-hit 8-0 conquest of the Redlegs.

Midland received eight-hit support from his teammates as he struck out nine Redlegs while issuing only one base on balls.

Batting 'Em Out

By GORDON McNULTY

The big baseball news this week concerns Lafayette Y. A. team's great play in the Contra Costa County Babe Ruth League's championship playoff in Concord.

The whole Lafayette Youth Association, who sponsors this team, is very proud of these boys for, although it was conceded in the pre-season that the team should make a good showing in the County League, none believed that they would go into the finals.

Under the managership of Al Nelson and Red Gillham this is exactly what they did last Sunday afternoon, only to lose out to a good team from Richmond.

In talking to the boys after that game, there were no excuses offered by any of them, only high praise for their opposition. However, it was this writer's observation, that if they had not had to play a double header, and they were the only team that had to do so, in the 100 degree temperature, things could have worked out somewhat different.

Nevertheless, one loss for the whole season isn't bad in any league.

In the Major League, Sun Valley Lumber continues its winning streak, and up to this week has a record of five wins and no losses.
